EMID is a leading South American distributor of electrical insulating materials such as magnet wire, power cables, insulating films and papers, kit insulation products, and transformer products, among many others. EMID's customer base is comprised of electrical equipment repair shops and leading OEMs including Siemens, Schneider Electric, ABB, and GE, to name a few.

EMID is a fully-owned subsidiary of Mexican-based Venameca Group, a distributor of electrical insulating materials, accessories, and components for the fabrication and repair of electrical equipment with operations in Mexico, US and Venezuela.

Carolina Insulation & Wire is a South-Carolina based supplier and fabricator of electrical insulating materials which complement EMID's current product offering.

Clairfield Partners in the US acted as exclusive financial advisor to Venameca/EMID.
